

SENATORIAL INVESTIGATION OF THE STEEL STRIKE IS BEGUN

LABOR'S SIDE OF THE CONTROVERSY TO BE PRESENTED FIRST BY CHAIRMAN FITZPATRICK; JUDGE GARY CANNOT ATTEND UNTIL NEXT WEEK

Probe Will Determine Whether Federal Action Can Relieve the Situation.

YOUNGSTOWN FEELS THIEP

Merchants Experience Curtailment of Ready Money Hereafter as a Result of Very Little Buying Outside of Necessities, Which is Restricted.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Investigation of the nationwide steel strike by the Senate Labor committee, which begins today, was called to determine if the situation in any way can be relieved by federal action.

John Fitzpatrick, chairman of the committee, has assured the committee he would present labor's side of the controversy and he was summoned as the first witness.

Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, was summoned to present the other side of the controversy, but will be unable to attend until next week. He will be asked to make a detailed statement and then submit to cross examination.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—In an effort to meet the ill effects of the steel strike on the transportation system, the railroad administration today is instituting a system of moving coal and iron ore to the steel mill by barge, which will limit the quantity shipped to what the steel mills can consume during the strike.

Regional directors of the railroad administration will handle the permit. The new order is intended to prevent congestion at terminals and also to prevent large quantities of railroad equipment from being tied up. The plan will operate much the same as that adopted for movement of the wheat crop.

YOUNGSTOWN, O. Sept. 25.—With a closing of the steel mill in the Mahoning Valley, merchants of Youngstown are beginning to feel the effects already of the curtailment of ready money hereafter as a result of very little buying outside of necessities, which is restricted.

Very little buying outside of the necessities is being done and even this is more restricted they assert. As a result of the curtailment they expect conditions to grow even worse.

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 25.—William P. Ryan, chief of the investigating bureau of the Department of Justice in Pittsburgh, today investigated the strike situation. He is reported to have been accompanied by a corps of special investigators.

YOUNGSTOWN, O. Sept. 25.—Charge that the Youngstown Coal and Coke Company is hoarding coal for the steel mill is being made by the Youngstown Coal and Coke Company. The charge is being made by the Youngstown Coal and Coke Company.

ONE MAN KILLED WHEN POLICE RAID A SUSPECTED SNIPING POST AT FARRELL

By Associated Press.
FARRELL, Pa., Sept. 25.—A man was shot and killed today when police raided a suspected sniping post at Farrell.

The boroughs of Farrell and Sharon remained quiet today. A full company of 51 State Police continued to patrol the principal streets of Farrell. The local authorities last night said they had heard reports that bands of men from across the Ohio state line nearby would come into Farrell and Sharon to join the Pennsylvania strikers. State and local authorities have taken precautions against any invasion.

The South Carnegie plant in Farrell was in operation today. Officials said more men are returning every day. Mass meetings have been forbidden by proclamation in Farrell and Sharon.

The local secretary of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers is said to have announced a meeting would be held here on the Ohio line today.

MORE THAN 1,000 STRIKERS REPORTED RETURNED AT GARY.
By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—There was considerable change today in the steel strike situation in the Chicago district. At Gary Indiana the United States Steel Corporation was reported to be operating its mill and about 75 of its 100 men were said to have returned to work.

More than 1,000 strikers are said to have returned to work yesterday and last night and the company is said to have a force of about 1,000 in the plants.

Union leaders deny that any of the strikers have returned and that the company is operating and out of payments on a production basis.

LITTLE BROTHER STEALS WIGGLY SNAKE; BIOLOGY CLASS HAS NO SPECIMEN

BIOLOGY The science of life the branch of science which treats of the phenomena of plants and animals with regard to their morphology, physiology, origin or development and distribution—Webster.

When public school pupils are in the high school they are in the line of Webster's definition of Biology which Mr. Webster defines as "the study of life and all that appertains to it." To get a thorough knowledge of it was the aim of the wiggly snake along his journey while the 1000 members of the Biology class were in the first hand about a lot of other things pupils and teachers take a wiggly snake and plants apart with a wiggly snake as it were. In the pupils full the tasks of securing the specimens. They often pass them on to father or big brother.

Which is a long round about way of leading up to the point of the story that a certain high school girl from need to get a real live wiggly snake for class room use. She assigned the job to her father who produced a wiggly snake and boxed him up alive.

fully so that daughter could take him to school.

In class Miss High School produced her box and the teacher opened one of it rather gingerly. Not but to be afraid of it anything like that but oh well even wiggly snakes are not too much to handle. When he opened the box and saw Mr. Snake no longer in it. Then he shook it gently not willing to know he occupied it. He tried to be leaping or some such, but nothing happened. Then he shook it again. And then to strike one good blow the box was opened and found to contain nothing much to the surprise of all concerned. Miss High School explained that she had submitted the box in good faith. Her father told her there was a snake in it. She was trying to lead the teacher or nothing.

It developed that her small brother had opened the box discovered Mr. Snake struck in a friend ship to him and secreted him about the house for a while.

BURNS SUFFERED IN WRECK PROVE FATAL TO ENGINEER MILLER

Well Known Local Railroader Succumbs at Midnight at Outing State Hospital

Burns suffered when Baltimore & Ohio train No. 8 was wrecked early Tuesday morning between Ohio and Confluence resulted in the death of Engineer Thomas Ellsworth Miller 48 years of age last night at midnight at the Cottage State Hospital. Mr. Miller's death was not unexpected. His wife and six children being at his bedside when the end came. From the beginning his condition was serious but he would rally a time and slight hopes for his recovery were entertained. Wednesday afternoon his condition became more alarming. From that time on until death he was unconscious.

Mr. Miller who was engineer of the wrecked train was badly scalded about the legs and other part of the body. His fireman W. L. Glenn was killed instantly while rounding a curve beyond Ohioville. The engine and part of the train left the tracks. The big locomotive turning over.

Mr. Miller was one of the best known railroad men on the Pittsburgh and Connelville divisions of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and was popular among all railroad men with whom he came in contact. In addition to being an engineer for a number of years he had served in other capacities for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. He entered the service of the company October 3, 1889 as a fireman. He received his promotion to an engineer February 22, 1890 and continued as an engineer until July 1, 1902 when he was advanced to the position of road foreman of engines. August 1912 he was promoted to master mechanic of the Connelville division which position he filled until about two years ago when he returned to the road as an engineer running on passenger trains. He was engineer on Train No. 8 known as the Inter State Special running between Chicago and New York for several months.

Mr. Miller was born in Bedford county June 1, 1871 a son of the late Frank and Jennie Douglas Miller. He was educated in the public schools of that county and resided on a farm until 1892 when the family moved to Hyndman. January 22, 1890 he was married to Alma Missouri Keedy of Hyndman. About 12 years ago Mr. Miller and family located in Connelville. The deceased was a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers the Hyndman lodge of Masons and the Trinity Lutheran church. In politics he was a Republican. His widow and six children as follows survive: Berton Ellsworth Kaheiser wife of Earl W. Henderson of Connelville; Paul S. Dewey Grace and Janice Miller all at home. His mother Mrs. Jennie Miller of Connelville the following brothers: R. H. Miller a Baltimore & Ohio passenger conductor; Connelville; A. B. Miller Pittsburg; Ross Miller Connelville; Albert Miller a Baltimore & Ohio engineer Hyndman and one sister Mrs. B. H. Miller of Rockwood also survive.

The body of Mr. Miller was taken in charge by Funeral Director Charles C. Mitchell and was later removed to the Miller home in Race street from which place funeral services will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Rev. Dr. F. B. Burgess of the Trinity Lutheran church will officiate. The body will be shipped to Hyndman for interment Saturday morning on Baltimore & Ohio train No. 6.

What a different breakfast good coffee makes!

It makes everything taste good. It starts "him" off feeling fine! And haven't you noticed that the better the coffee is, the better he feels?

But to make fine full flavored coffee, you must have good coffee to start with. And it takes a firm of the experience and magnitude of Arbuckle Brothers the world's greatest coffee roasters, to give you good coffee at a reasonable price.

More than a million women depend on Arbuckles Coffee to make breakfast a complete success.

Read what some of them say

My wife has been giving me Arbuckles Ansoa Coffee for 21 years and I find it just as good today as the first time I ever tasted it. I really believe it is improved today and I must have it no matter what it costs. — M. J. F. K. Export Fa.

I have used Arbuckles Coffee for fifteen years and would not consider any other. My husband always wants a good strong cup of coffee and thinks there's nothing like Arbuckles. — Mrs. N. S. Indiana Pa.

Have your coffee pot freshly scoured use fresh boiling water not water which has been in the kettle for some time. Arbuckles Coffee from its air-proof moisture-proof package. Then only will you realize how good coffee can be!

THURSDAY EVENING, SEP. 25, 1919.

WHERE PENNSYLVANIA STANDS ON LAW AND ORDER.

The citizens of Pennsylvania will stand squarely behind Governor Sprout in his determination to compel obedience to the law and to require the preservation of order and the public peace in the strike zones of the state.

When William Z. Foster, one of the radical strike leaders, protested against the employment of the State Police in dispersing crowds that had assembled in defiance of proclamations by the local authorities, Governor Sprout answered the complaint in a message, the meaning of which cannot be misunderstood.

"Experience has shown," says the governor, "that it is dangerous to permit the congregation of large numbers of people during times of stress and excitement and the sheriff, as the official charged with the maintenance of law and order, was acting for the public welfare in forbidding the gathering and in enforcing his decrees. In carrying out this policy the sheriffs of all the counties will have the full assistance of the state."

Strike Leader Foster was himself given to understand the responsibility that rests upon him and all citizens to assist in maintaining order. "I shall expect," said the governor, "your full cooperation in helping us to see to it that the laws of the commonwealth and the peace are preserved." Warning is given that "agitators, hostile alike to our institutions of government and to the organization which you represent, who have come to Pennsylvania to spread wicked propaganda and to endeavor to inflame the ignorant and the vicious to riot and pillage, will be apprehended and punished."

Taking cognizance of the report that a band of armed men threaten to cross into Pennsylvania from Ohio, Governor Sprout minces no words when he declares: "If any such attempts are made, we shall be compelled to regard these mobs as armed invaders of Pennsylvania and we shall deal with them as such."

"Our interest in the struggle in which you are engaged," he points out to Leader Foster, "is in the maintenance of law and order, the protection of your rights and those of all our people, citizens and non-citizens alike, who live within our laws. Our people are law-abiding and, while they have absolute consideration for the rights of others, they are earnest indeed in the protection of their own rights and the good name of the commonwealth of which they are a part. This is the spirit of the people of Pennsylvania, and as governor of the state I shall see to it that their laws are faithfully executed, their rights protected and their institutions upheld."

Strike Leader Foster and his staff will make no graver mistake than to proceed upon the assumption that Pennsylvania and Pennsylvanians will stand for or condone violence and disregard of the law.

DANGERS OF THE "DOUBLE-HEADED."

That two faithful and efficient employees of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad lost their lives as the result of the accident to the Interstate Special near Confluence serves to direct attention once more to the hazardous nature of the railway men's occupation. True, the percentage of fatalities to the number of persons employed in other vocations is higher, but in none is the danger to life and limb so constant as in railroad work. That the casualties are no greater is splendid testimony to the persistent and well directed efforts of those in charge of safety first regulations and practices. Individual employees have learned the importance of exercising the utmost watchfulness at all times, realizing that the safety of themselves and others is dependent upon the precautions each may take. But with all the vigilance that may be exercised there are occasions when accidents are seemingly unavoidable.

Among experienced railroad men the Confluence accident does not altogether belong to that class. While the direct cause has not been determined, engineers and firemen who have been long in the service incline to the belief that the practice of double-heading locomotives, which involves an element of danger that should be avoided, was responsible for the accident and its fatal consequences.

In fact, this method of handling heavy trains on the mountain grades was very earnestly advised against by old engineers when the practice was proposed to be adopted some years ago. It was held that in case of even minor accidents to the tender of the leading locomotive, which are not of infrequent occurrence, a condition of great peril to the crew of the second locomotive is created, and their chances of escape in event of a derailment are very small indeed. That, in the judgment of many engineers and firemen, was what happened in the Confluence wreck. Something caused the derailment of the tender of the first locomotive, which in turn derailed the second, killing Fireman Glenn outright and fatally scalding Engineer Miller.

That this practice of hauling heavy trains has resulted in the death of two capable and experienced employees, and worthy citizens, should invite the attention of railroad officials to the desirability of making an inquiry into the claims of trainmen that it is much the better and safer to use the helping locomotive as a pusher at the rear of the train than to couple the two together at the front. Railroad men have never been unwilling to assume the normal and necessary hazards of train running but if their experience has taught them that a certain practice is unsafe, or more hazardous than another that will accomplish the same objects with reduced risk of life and limb, their advice and judgment in such matters is entitled to be very carefully considered.

Stick through the heat of P. hammer and beat of it. Play out the game to the end.
Stand to the test of it, making the best of it, you have a name to defend.
Heart and soul go for it, you have a show for it, fight just as hard as you can.
But cherish no doubt of it, you can come out of it, failure or victory—a man.

Make a fair fight of it, keep in the light of it, honestly battle with it. But don't let the prize of it glitter and size of it tempt you to shame or to sin.
Better by far to be short of the victory. Than falsely get hold of it, knowing the gold of it carries the name of a cheat.

Hold yourself high above cheating and money-love, want something more than a goal.
Treasure your honest name more than a victor's fame—nothing can pay for your soul.
Then if you're beaten down, failing to gain the crown, you can come home with pride.
Smiling and head-tied, owing your respect, knowing that truly you tried.

ENGLISH RAILROADS OPERATED AT HEAVY LOSS BY GOVERNMENT

Net Deficit of Current Year Will Be About $119,000,000; Total Charge on Public Is $370,000,000.
Instead of the reported profits for the English government in the operation of railways from the opening of the war down to the end of 1918, there was an actual net loss of about $119,000,000, it is declared by the National Bank of Commerce in New York in the September issue of Commerce Monthly, the bank magazine. For the present year it is estimated that the charge on the public for government operation will run to about $370,000,000. The bank says: "During what may be termed the war period of government railway control in the United Kingdom, lasting from August 5, 1914, to December 31, 1918, the average net annual operating revenue of the roads exceeded that of 1913, in spite of a slight deficit in the first part of the period, ending with December, 1915. The amount of the railways' net income in 1913 had been granted them as a yearly guarantee by the government at the outset of the war. These figures which are shown in a recent statement presented to the British Parliament, do not, however, include extra wear and tear arising from additional traffic carried, which is estimated at $200,000,000 and for which the government still remains liable to the companies. As a result of this liability, it is estimated that during the period considered, the government, although making an apparent profit of $81,000,000 from running the railways, actually sustained a net loss of some $119,000,000.

"The year 1918 marked the end of a balance of revenues, a large deficit being unavoidable in the 1919 operation of the railways. This year's revenue is estimated at $725,000,000, the decrease from last year being due to a large falling off in government traffic. Expenditures are estimated at the unprecedented figure of $881,000,000, because of increased cost of labor and materials. The resulting deficit is $156,000,000. In addition to meeting this deficit, the public treasury must pay the railways their annual guaranteed revenue. As a result the charge on the public for government operation of the railways during the current year will be about $370,000,000.

FOR COUNTY CONTROLLER

CHARLES B. FRANKS

OF DUNBAR TOWNSHIP

There is no more important office in the county than that of Controller. He is the official who must stand watch over the money the county spends. No bill is paid without his approval and no power can compel him to approve any warrant that does not call for a full and a necessary measure of service. Mr. Franks is a candidate for County Controller. He will be the kind of Controller the law prescribes—the kind of Controller the taxpayer demands.

There's no denying Charles Franks' honesty, competency and experience. He was born and raised in Nicholson township. He is a son of "Little Mike" Franks, a former treasurer of the county and in his day one of its best and most honored citizens. For 20 years Mr. Franks has been one of the substantial men of Dunbar township. For 18 years of the 20 he has served on the Dunbar township school board. He has the trust and confidence of every man who knows him, and his record in private and public life, in and out of his township, is the best possible guarantee that if elected Controller he will see to it that the interests of the county and its taxpayers are safeguarded to the limit of his ability and the limit of the law.

Shantung's Industries Range

From Hair Nets to Railways

(Special to The Courier)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—My brain simply reels with all the talk about Japan, and China, and the League of Nations, and the League of Nations, as she passes her hands on her head, where her rebellious tresses would be falling down were it not for a net of human hair from Shantung.

"Come down here to get away from this talk about the peace treaty; China's a long way off anyway," growls Mr. Business Man, as he scrolls along the beach, in a pensive mood from Shantung.

With this introduction the National Geographic Society issue, a bulletin concerning the industries of Shantung, which range from making hair nets to building railways, is quoted from a communication to the society by Maynard Owen Williams, as follows:

"When the speedy roller made hair nets a necessity, the under pressure in a remote province of 30,000,000 released a little.

"The almost invisible net serves fashion to preserve for a other hour the loveliness of a moment. But the making of hair nets enables whole villages of wrinkled old women in Shantung to put a little more food into ever-hungry stomachs.

"When the American note emerged from the wooden of former convention and donned the dapper suit of cool pongee, all the silk-worms in Shantung had to work overtime, and their masters added a strip of silk to the family dish. A pongee-silk crowd at Bar Harbor means a better population in Wenhwa.

"An American woman wears some Chefoo lace and thanks a her and the purchases of her friends. Almond-eyed girls are being trained in mission schools 3,000 miles away.

"The doughboy back from the war is also a booster of Shantung, though perhaps he doesn't know it. As he tells of the ever-smiling Chinese whom he saw making roads in France, he testifies to the fine qualities of some of the world's best laborers.

"The Shantung coolie did his fair share of war work. A hundred and fifty thousand of him went out to better living conditions and a wider outlook when the British troops steamed away from his penninsular home. Hundreds of his dropped shovel and seized gun or fought with clubs and axes when the beach at Chateau-Thierry yawned.

"Now some of those Shantung coolies are being returned to their homes with new thoughts and ideas, speaking Pidgin-French, Pidgin-English, and what-not, but with wonderful tales to tell of the men in whose sides they fought.

"When China wants rail ways built or canals dug, here are the boys who showed the best Allied engineers what loyal labor really was.

"Nor will they have to wait long. An American corporation is now waiting for better transportation facilities.

BASEBALL HONORS FOR HARVARD MAN

Robert W. Emmons, second, captain-elect of the Crimson nine, has been awarded two trophies offered for individual prowess on the baseball diamond at Harvard. The advisory baseball committee announced Emmons as the winner of the Wingate cup, offered annually to the best all-around player on the team. He had previously won the Barrett Wendell bat as the nine's best hitter. Emmons plays shortstop.

POCKETS BARRED BY CHRIS VON DER AHE

Cincinnati Won From St. Louis Through Odd Accident.

Ball Hit by Visiting Player Got Stuck in Pocket of Carroll and Batter Scored Before Sphere Could Be Extracted.

Way back in St. Cincinnati was playing one afternoon with Chris Von Der Ahe's St. Louis aggregation on the St. Louis grounds.

Cincinnati had a man on first base and two out, and needed two runs to win.

Cliff Carroll was playing center field for the St. Louis nine. The Cincinnati batter hit a slow grounder to center, and Carroll ran up to gather it in.

The situation was ticklish, and Carroll prepared to field the ball carefully. He squatted down to meet it, and got his hands in position. Just before it reached him the ball hit a clump of dirt and bounded high. Carroll grabbed for it with both hands, just as it hit him in the chest.

Somehow in the struggle the ball was wedged into the pocket of Carroll's uniform shirt. It got in there, and Cliff had a terrible time trying to get it out.

The runner stopped at second long enough to see that something was the matter. Then he started for home, with Carroll still digging away at his shirt pocket.

The result was that the runner got home safely and Cincinnati won the game.

Chris Von Der Ahe almost had a fit. He fined Carroll fifty for putting the ball in his pocket and made a rule that thereafter no pockets of any kind should be allowed in the uniforms of his team.

BASEBALL IS LOSING OUT WITH SUN GODS

Bleacherites in Major League Cities are Passing Away.

On Big Days Fans Flock to Grandstand and Overflow to Discomfort, While Bleachers Are Comparatively Empty.

When proposals are heard in the major leagues now and then to reduce the proportion of bleacher capacity they are accompanied usually with the explanation that the increased cost of major league baseball requires it. But now we hear a proposal from a veteran minor league manager that bleachers be abolished entirely, and it cannot be exactly due to the increased cost of minor league baseball, since the presumption is that various economical measures have been inaugurated, including reduced player and salary limits.

It brings up the question: Are the sun gods dying out in baseball? This minor league manager avers that they are, and it might seem that conditions in the majors give indorsement to his view. It has been noted that in major league cities where the bulk of the attendance was in the bleachers in seasons past the sun seats today are distressingly bare. Even on big days the fans will flock to the grandstand and overflow it to discomfort, while the bleachers present wide expanses of empty seats.

But we do not think it follows that the fan who used to sit in the bleachers has deserted the national game. Rather he is giving himself the privilege in baseball as he is in general living conditions of something better. He can afford it and he will have what he can afford. Perhaps then, in these days of big money for everybody and even hot carriers making $5 a day, the uncomfortable bleachers are taboo. They are passing, to become only a memory of the days when the world wasn't as good a place to live in as it is now—and the former bleacherite is becoming a grandstand aristocrat.

And yet, the bleachers were no hardship in the days when many of us were young. We took a pride in sitting nowhere else—that the grandstand occupants were people who didn't really know and love baseball, but just fliers drifting to a ball game out of curiosity or to kill time.

In those days, though, the bleachers were the "close up" in baseball. Now they give nothing but a sort of bird's-eye view, and that may be a contributing factor. The fan wants to be near the diamond. When they moved the bleachers back and swung the grandstands around the base lines he naturally drifted to the grandstands—as soon as he found the price.

A few years ago we would have said that fans in the bleachers meant decline in real baseball interest, but now we have a new viewpoint and refuse to fret when we see the sun seats empty.

Hail the slogan of the New Era: A grandstand seat for every fan, and enough money for every fan so that he can afford it.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poisons Start to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this country is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer in this vicinity that if two bottles of Allenburh, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and go away, with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenburh has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiful and where the patient was helpless.

Allenburh relieves at once. Immediately after you start to take it the good work begins. It searches out the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels.

It's marvelous how quickly it acts. Bled often comes in two days, and even in cases where the suffering is most painful all traces disappear in a few days.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenburh, who for many years suffered the tortures of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money, unless Allenburh has decisively conquered this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed the Connellsville Drug Co. to guarantee it in every instance.—Ad.

Tailor Made Suits and Overcoats

If you ever have trouble with a coat that binds around the arm-pits or shoulders, wrinkles at the upper arm, or sags at the neck—then it will pay you to get acquainted with me.

Those are the kinds of trouble that are most likely to occur in clothes that are not made to your individual measure by an expert tailor. Of course, there are other misfits; there are bound to be when clothes are made just alike for men that are not alike, and no two men are just alike.

A garment that was made for someone else of about your height and chest measurement may hang alright at first—but it only hangs—it doesn't really fit and soon it begins to sag.

I have hundreds of patterns in my store; no two are just alike; each one was made for a different customer. Yours will be different, too, for it will represent your exact build, and the suit I make will fit you as if made for you—because it will be made for you.

It will continue to fit you as long as you wear it—and you can wear it many months longer than the ordinary suit—that is because it will be made of Deimler Woolens, and "Deimler" on woolens means what "Sterling" means on silver—pure all-wool, guaranteed.

You will get a lot of satisfaction and service out of a suit built to your measure out of any of the hundreds of fine fabrics I can show you. Why not come in tomorrow, look over my line and let me take your measure?

Simple Home Remedy Advised For Rose And Hay Fever

Anyone Can Make a Pint For Trifling Sum and Used In Time May Prevent Annual Attack

No matter how severe your yearly attack be, no matter how distressing or humiliating.

Its intensity can be reduced to a harmless mildness, says a Kentucky druggist who believes from what he has seen that this simple home made remedy is a most important discovery.

He has seen the most severe and apparently unmanageable cases reduced to what might be called a mild cold in twenty-four hours.

In many cases where the patient started treatment a week or ten days before the expected attack the unexpected yearly visitor failed to appear with anything like its usual intensity.

People who want to try this new treatment can make a pint in a few minutes.

Four one ounce of Mentholized Arvine in a pint bottle then fill the bottle with water that has been boiled.

Curve's daily use directed and sniff or spray the nostrils twice daily.

That's all there is to the treatment which so many sufferers have found to be a true friend.

Mentholized Arvine in one ounce vials is dispensed by all the better pharmacies.

OPERATORS WILL KEEP A FIRM HAND ON THE COKE SITUATION

By Preventing Over-Production or Accumulation of Un-consigned Cars.

ADOPT FORMER POLICY

Of Restricting Output Through Lay-Off Days, Banking or Blowing Out of Ovens; Considerable Coke Moving But Is Going to New Markets.

In meeting the situation which will arise in the coke trade in consequence of the strike the producers will follow the policy adopted by them when the slump set in last January. Production will be curtailed as rapidly as and to the extent that demand for coke falls off. This will be accomplished through reduced working time, banking or blowing out of ovens or a slowing up of operation, or a combination of any two or all of these methods as the needs may require. The object in all cases and the aim of every producer will be to prevent an over production and the loading of coke for which there may be no immediate destinations.

As in the early weeks of the mid-winter break in the market it may be difficult to closely gauge production to requirements but there will be no hesitation in making the cuts both frequent and severe if those already made, and to be made, prove insufficient. As soon as the strike became an actuality operators began at once to provide for the sudden and sharp falling off in demand for coke which they knew would come. A number of ovens drawn on Monday and Tuesday were not re-charged and at plants where no change in the number in blast is immediately contemplated, preparations were made to cut the running time to at least five days and otherwise slow down the operation. The H. C. Frick Coke company has planned a five-day schedule for the week. Other operations will follow that order and still others will probably make only four days. Other operators will bank or blow out ovens as the developments require to be done. The very general banking of blast furnaces has practically cut off the demand for furnace coke in the districts contiguous to the Connellsville region, shipments to the valleys, Cleveland and Buffalo having been suspended. There is a very considerable volume of coke moving, but it is into new channels where the tonnage requirements are less than in the markets from which it has been diverted. Foundry demand shows no abatement but the supply available will very probably become greater with the region working on a schedule which permits the production of more 72-hour coke.

The region's quota of by-product gas, which has been moving regularly to the by-product plants of the furnace interests, is going forward without material change in volume but it is being used for other purposes, practically all of the furnace plants having ceased to make coke at the point of consumption. There is naturally a disturbed condition of affairs in the trade but the operators are not losing sight of the necessity of keeping a firm hand on the situation. No speculation is being indulged in as to the ultimate effect of the strike on the trade; that will depend entirely upon the extent to which it develops and also the duration of the walkout. Attention will be centered in maintaining the industry in such condition that it can readily adapt itself to changes as they occur in the strike situation and when that has cleared be ready to resume business.

The expectation having been general that an eleventh hour intervention of some sort would prevent a crisis in the steel labor situation, coke producers took no unusual precaution last week to be ready for the Monday morning walkout of the radical element among the steel workers. There was a slight slackening in coke production, however, but not sufficient to produce any material change from the preceding week.

Estimated production for the week ending Saturday, September 20, was 258,800 tons, or very nearly the same as that of the preceding week. By districts the tonnage was: Connellsville, 159,020, an increase of 5,4 tons; Lower Connellsville, 99,781, a decrease of 1,513 tons, or a net decrease of 1,093 tons. By interests the production was: Furnace, 159,020, a gain of 1,267 tons; merchant, 99,781, a loss of 2,306 tons.

There was a net gain of four in the number of active ovens during the week, the furnace interests having blown on 53 and the merchants having added 57.

STEEL AND IRON MEN ARE RELIEVED THAT THE STRIKE IS ON

Uncertainty as to the Situation Is Now Over; Only About 35 Per Cent of Capacity Is Idle.

Special to The Weekly Courier. NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—The American Metal Market and Daily Iron & Steel Report will review the steel and iron trade tomorrow as follows:

Until last Thursday night there was uncertainty as to whether the iron and steel strike called for last Monday would be postponed. It was recognized, however, that the excitement of the labor agitators had been able to produce would wane if there were delay and the refusal to postpone the strike, despite the pending White House conference on labor, occasioned no surprise.

When the strike resulting in making idle about 35 per cent of the iron and steel productive capacity the manufacturers were relieved, while it may be that the labor agitators were greatly surprised. Since the strike started Monday morning conditions have been changing at many points, some plants gaining in operation, others losing, but at the middle of the week it appears that the gains and losses are approximately balancing.

If the Monongahela valley continues its present fairly full rate of operation the spectacle is expected to cause a break in the strike at Youngstown, where it is practically complete, and Gary and Chicago would probably be influenced also. No great decrease in the extent of the strike is expected within less than two or three weeks, and the possibility of there being a prolonged strike is not ignored. The iron and steel market has practically disappeared. There is a strong feeling of sympathy among consumers who realize the necessity of the mills having a free hand in dealing with the situation.

No change in iron and steel prices are expected. Producers are sold up and with production restricted there is no material available for sale.

FREIGHT MOVEMENT

In July Showed Decreased Train Mileage and Decreased Car Miles.

The net ton miles of revenue and non-revenue freight handled during the month of July show a decrease as compared with July, 1918, according to the report of the operating statistics section. Train mileage decreased 8.7 per cent, and car miles decreased 8.7 per cent, while the percentage of loaded to total car miles increased 1.8 per cent, from 54.9 to 55.

LESSONS IN OPTOMETRY

By L. W. MYERS, Opt. D.

LESSON SIX

With a child with astigmatism outgrow it?

Never. In a child astigmatism is of two recognized types: one child was born with it and it is as much a part of his makeup as a club foot.

What effect has uncorrected astigmatism on a child?

It depends, as before explained, on the strength of the child, the amount of the error, the number of hours he reads or studies, and other circumstances.

Speaking generally, astigmatism has a detrimental effect upon a child; decidedly so. He may become nervous, nervous in study, slow to learn, and disobedient.

Would parents be wise in having their children's eyes examined for possible defects by an optometrist?

Yes, in a few years ALL children will be required to submit to an examination by an optometrist, just as they are now examined for physical ailments and defective teeth.

FOR THE WOMAN WHO LIKES INDIVIDUALITY—and what woman does not—

There is significance in the fact that all our better suits are "one of a kind" models. We have purchased them exclusively for this territory and have no duplicates.

MOREOVER, THERE'S EXCLUSIVENESS—

in fabric as well as in model. The thing which is making it worth women's while to buy the season's beautiful suits not merely for today, but for tomorrow, also, is because the Duvetyn family is the greatest aristocrat woollens have ever known, being made from the fleece of Australia's finest merinos. To the Duvetyn family belong duvet de laines, peach bloom and other cloths of suede-like softness and irreproachable class. Never, at any price, have American or French weavers offered such truly beautiful woollens, have dyers produced such soft, rich, deep colors as those weaves and those colors shown this year in the new 1919 suits now on our racks.

For $29.<sup>75</sup> $35.<sup>00</sup> & $39.<sup>75</sup>

These are tailor models in Poplin, Serge, Velour and Mixtures. Very attractive and presenting splendid values for general and street wear. Semi-tailored and dress suits are found in a few weaves at this price.

For $45, $55, $65 & $75

Here one finds a greater variety in finer fabrics, including fine Men's Wear Serges, Tricotine, Velour, Tinseltone, Silverstone and Velour Check. Fur trimmings, braid, plain tailored effects and the new Chin Chin collars feature various models in this group, which is representative of what many women want in a good suit for any need.

For $85.<sup>00</sup> & $150.<sup>00</sup>

The finest materials, the most exquisite workmanship have gone into the suits in this group which is comprehensive of the very best the season has to offer. Some have longer coats than others, some are strictly tailored. Others semi-tailored and still others dressy, but each is as individual as time and palastaking thought and skill could make it. In this group are suits of Duvet de Laine, Duvetyn, Tinseltone, Tricotine, Silverstone, and others of the soft, lustrous woollens of the season. Hudson seal, Australian opossum, Nutria and squirrel trim many of them, but many, too, are distinguished the more because of the exquisite tailoring which has gone into their perfection. Pussy Willow Taffeta in plain colored or gorgeous floral or conventional designs line them.

FORTUNATE INDEED, ARE WE

that our display is so complete. All the suits which we ordered are now here. What we will have to pay when the racks are depleted no one can even prophesy. Meanwhile, as the result of the untiring vigilance of our resident buyers in New York, we are offering for fall groups of suits representing many qualities and covering a wide range of prices which we can say unreservedly are the best we have ever had in stock.
